- In September, the Federal Emergency Management Agency expects to release the 2012 State Preparedness Report (SPR) tool to 56 states and territories. The SPR is an annual self-assessment of state preparedness capabilities. The Post-Katrina Emergency Management Reform Act of 2006 requires an SPR for any state/territory receiving federal preparedness assistance administered by the Department of Homeland Security. The SPR methodology allows states and territories to measure current capabilities relevant to the capability targets they have established based upon their unique threat/hazard profile.
- In September, U.S. Customs and Border Protection and Mexico Customs expects to begin implementing complementary cargo pre-inspection programs. These pilot programs will allow compliant cargo to bypass traditional inspections at the ports of entry and facilitate the rapid flow of legitimate trade between both countries.

- In September, U.S. Customs and Border Protection expects to publish in the Federal Register redesign plans for the CBP Form 5106. CBP will use this annual review process to propose the collection of additional information through a revision of the form. The proposed 5106 form changes will allow CBP to screen for shell companies and conduct better risk assessment for targeting of shipments.
- In September, U.S. Customs and Border Protection expects to publish a notice in the Federal Register announcing CBP's plan to expand on the Simplified Entry Test. This data will fulfill merchandise entry requirements and will allow for earlier release decisions and more certainty for the importer in determining the logistics of cargo delivery. This capability will eliminate paper processing, expedite processing and save money for government and the trade community.
- In late September, DHS expects to announce a Resilience STAR™ pilot project in a community prone to hurricanes. The pilot will test whether a DHS-backed Resilience STAR™ designation can be used to speed the market acceptance of building homes to construction standards designed to withstand the effect of natural disasters in disaster prone or high risk areas.
- On September 26, DHS expects to issue the Directive on Nondiscrimination for Individuals with Disabilities, which establishes DHS policy and implementation mechanisms for ensuring nondiscrimination for individuals with disabilities served by DHS.
- On September 30, DHS expects to issue a signed policy statement declaring the agency's position against discrimination on any protected basis. The FY13 DHS EEO Policy Statement includes the prohibited basis of "gender identity" for the first time.
- In October, DHS expects to release the DHS Resilience Implementation Strategy to Congress. The Strategy was called for in a 2012 GAO Report to implement the draft DHS Resilience Policy.
- In October, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services is expected to enhance E-Verify's Monitoring and Compliance function to allow USCIS analysts to "lock" social security numbers that appear to be used fraudulently within E-Verify to prevent fraud and enhance system integrity.
- In October, Immigration and Customs Enforcement expects to public the Prison Rape Elimination Act (PREA) Final Rule. This rule is prepared to fulfill requirements of the May 17, 2012 Presidential Memorandum directing all agencies with Federal confinement facilities to propose rules and procedures under the PREA and the Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act (VAWA).
- In October, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services expects to launch dedicated customer contact center and online support for USCIS ELIS customers. Individuals who file through USCIS ELIS will be able to fill out an online form or submit an email directly to a dedicated team of representatives for customer support and assistance. Responses to customers will be provided via email or through call-back.
- In October, DHS expects to implement a Global Entry Pilot with Saudi Arabia and Israel allowing expedited clearance for pre-approved, low-risk travelers upon arrival in the U.S.
- On October 10, DHS expects to provide the President with a successor to the National Infrastructure Protection Plan to address the implementation of Presidential Policy Directive-21 and alignment with the National Preparedness Goal and System required by Presidential Policy Directive-8.

VI. 30-60 Day Look-Ahead

- In September, U.S. Customs and Border Protection and Mexico Customs expect to begin implementing complementary cargo pre-inspection programs. These pilot programs will allow compliant cargo to bypass traditional inspections at the ports of entry and facilitate the rapid flow of legitimate trade between both countries.

- In September, U.S. Customs and Border Protection expects to publish in the Federal Register redesign plans for the CBP Form 5106. CBP will use this annual review process to propose the collection of additional information through a revision of the form. The proposed 5106 form changes will allow CBP to screen for shell companies and conduct better risk assessment for targeting of shipments.
- In September, U.S. Customs and Border Protection expects to publish a notice in the Federal Register announcing CBP's plan to expand on the Simplified Entry Test. This data will fulfill merchandise entry requirements and will allow for earlier release decisions and more certainty for the importer in determining the logistics of cargo delivery. This capability will eliminate paper processing, expedite processing and save money for government and the trade community.
- In late September, DHS expects to announce a Resilience STAR™ pilot project in a community prone to hurricanes. The pilot will test whether a DHS-backed Resilience STAR™ designation can be used to speed the market acceptance of building homes to construction standards designed to withstand the effect of natural disasters in disaster-prone or high risk areas.
- On September 30, DHS expects to issue a signed policy statement declaring the agency's position against discrimination on any protected basis. The FY13 DHS EEO Policy Statement includes the prohibited basis of "gender identity" for the first time.
- In October, DHS expects to release the DHS Resilience Implementation Strategy to Congress. The Strategy was called for in a 2012 GAO Report to implement the draft DHS Resilience Policy.
- In October, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) is expected to launch its redesigned website. The USCIS website will retain the look and feel of uscis.gov while migrating to a new content management system called DRUPAL, which will allow quicker and easier content management while providing enhanced customer service.
- In October, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services is expected to enhance E-Verify's Monitoring and Compliance function to allow USCIS analysts to "lock" social security numbers that appear to be used fraudulently within E-Verify to prevent fraud and enhance system integrity.
- In October, Immigration and Customs Enforcement expects to publish the Prison Rape Elimination Act (PREA) Final Rule. This rule is prepared to fulfill requirements of the May 17, 2012 Presidential Memorandum directing all agencies with Federal confinement facilities to propose rules and procedures under the PREA and the Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act (VAWA).
- In October, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services expects to launch dedicated customer contact center and online support for USCIS ELIS customers. Individuals who file through USCIS ELIS will be able to fill out an online form or submit an email directly to a dedicated team of representatives for customer support and assistance. Responses to customers will be provided via email or through call-back.
- In October, DHS expects to implement a Global Entry Pilot with Saudi Arabia and Israel allowing expedited clearance for pre-approved, low-risk travelers upon arrival in the U.S.
- On October 10, DHS expects to provide the President with a successor to the National Infrastructure Protection Plan to address the implementation of Presidential Policy Directive-21 and alignment with the National Preparedness Goal and System required by Presidential Policy Directive-8.

VI. 30-60 Day Look-Ahead

- On October 10, DHS expects to provide the President with a successor to the National Infrastructure Protection Plan to address the implementation of Presidential Policy Directive-21 and alignment with the National Preparedness Goal and System required by Presidential Policy Directive-8.
- By October 30, FEMA expects to release Continuity Guidance Circular 2, which provides guidance and a methodology to help non-Federal Governments and government jurisdictions identify their essential functions through the use of Business Process Analysis and Business Impact Analysis.
- By October 30, FEMA expects to release the Continuity Assistant Tool Continuity Assistance for Non-Federal Governments, which provides guidance and assistance for States, Territories, Tribes, Local Government Jurisdictions, and private sector organizations to identify continuity program strengths and areas for improvement.
- In October, DHS expects to release the DHS Resilience Implementation Strategy to Congress. The Strategy was called for in a 2012 GAO Report to implement the draft DHS Resilience Policy.
- In October, the National Protection and Programs Directorate expects to announce the selection of the FY2014 RRAP projects, which are cooperative, non-regulatory assessments of infrastructure assets, systems, and capabilities within a defined geographic region to identify and address critical dependencies, interdependencies, cascading effects, vulnerabilities, and other protection gaps for State, local, tribal, territorial, and private sector partners.
- In October, U.S. Customs and Border Protection expects to publish a notice in the Federal Register announcing CBP's plan to expand on the Simplified Entry Test. This data will fulfill merchandise entry requirements and will allow for earlier release decisions and more certainty for the importer in determining the logistics of cargo delivery. This capability will eliminate paper processing, expedite processing and save money for government and the trade community.
- In October, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services is expected to enhance E-Verify's Monitoring and Compliance function to allow USCIS analysts to "lock" social security numbers that appear to be used fraudulently within E-Verify to prevent fraud and enhance system integrity.
- In October, Immigration and Customs Enforcement expects to amend the regulations at 8 CFR part 293 addressing the payment of interest on cash bond deposits to reflect a recent determination made by the Department of the Treasury to change the interest rate. The proposed rule would change the interest rate paid on cash deposited to secure immigration bonds from a fixed rate of 3 percent per annum to a fluctuating “T-Bill rate.”

- In October, the Science & Technology Directorate expects to conduct a field assessment of the Conventional Fixed Station Interface, which is a low-cost, after-market solution that enables different systems to communicate with each other so that the consoles agencies use to dispatch emergency personnel can communicate regardless of manufacturer.
- In October, U.S. Customs and Border Protection expects to publish an interim final rule setting forth eligibility requirements, application procedures and fees, and benefits relevant to participation in the U.S. Asia-Pacific Economic Cooperation (APEC) Business Travel Card Program.
- In October, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services expects to publish a notice in the Federal Register announcing the extension of Temporary Protected Status for Somalia.
- In October, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services expects to add Form I-90 to USCIS ELIS (Electronic Immigration System). This will allow customers to file Form I-90 electronically and enhance customer service.
- In October, Immigration and Customs Enforcement expects to publish the Prison Rape Elimination Act (PREA) Final Rule. This rule is prepared to fulfill requirements of the May 17, 2012 Presidential Memorandum directing all agencies with Federal confinement facilities to propose rules and procedures under the PREA and the Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act (VAWA).
- In October, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services expects to launch dedicated customer contact center and online support for USCIS ELIS customers. Individuals who file through USCIS ELIS will be able to fill out an online form or submit an email directly to a dedicated team of representatives for customer support and assistance. Responses to customers will be provided via email or through call-back.
- In October, DHS expects to implement a Global Entry Pilot with Saudi Arabia and Israel allowing expedited clearance for pre-approved, low-risk travelers upon arrival in the U.S.

VI. 30-60 Day Look-Ahead

- In October, DHS expects to release the DHS Resilience Implementation Strategy to Congress. The Strategy was called for in a 2012 GAO Report to implement the draft DHS Resilience Policy.
- In October, the National Protection and Programs Directorate expects to announce the selection of the FY2014 RRAP projects, which are cooperative, non-regulatory assessments of infrastructure assets, systems, and capabilities within a defined geographic region to identify and address critical dependencies, interdependencies, cascading effects, vulnerabilities, and other protection gaps for State, local, tribal, territorial, and private sector partners.
- In October, U.S. Customs and Border Protection expects to publish a notice in the Federal Register announcing CBP's plan to expand on the Simplified Entry Test. This data will fulfill merchandise entry requirements and will allow for earlier release decisions and more certainty for the importer in determining the logistics of cargo delivery. This capability will eliminate paper processing, expedite processing and save money for government and the trade community.
- In October, Immigration and Customs Enforcement expects to amend the regulations at 8 CFR part 293 addressing the payment of interest on cash bond deposits to reflect a recent determination made by the Department of the Treasury to change the interest rate. The proposed rule would change the interest rate paid on cash deposited to secure immigration bonds from a fixed rate of 3 percent per annum to a fluctuating "T-Bill rate."
- In October, the Science & Technology Directorate expects to conduct a field assessment of the Conventional Fixed Station Interface, which is a low-cost, after-market solution that enables different systems to communicate with each other so that the consoles agencies use to dispatch emergency personnel can communicate regardless of manufacturer.
- In October, U.S. Customs and Border Protection expects to publish an interim final rule setting forth eligibility requirements, application procedures and fees, and benefits relevant to participation in the U.S. Asia-Pacific Economic Cooperation (APEC) Business Travel Card Program.
- In October, Immigration and Customs Enforcement expects to publish the Prison Rape Elimination Act (PREA) Final Rule. This rule is prepared to fulfill requirements of the May 17, 2012 Presidential Memorandum directing all agencies with Federal confinement facilities to propose rules and procedures under the PREA and the Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act (VAWA).
- In October, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services expects to launch dedicated customer contact center and online support for USCIS ELIS customers. Individuals who file through USCIS ELIS will be able to fill out an online form or submit an email directly to a dedicated team of representatives for customer support and assistance. Responses to customers will be provided via email or through call-back.
- In October, DHS expects to implement a Global Entry Pilot with Saudi Arabia and Israel allowing expedited clearance for pre-approved, low-risk travelers upon arrival in the U.S.
- In late October, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) expects to launch its redesigned website. The redesigned USCIS website has a new look and feel and employs a new content management system called DRUPAL, which will allow quicker and easier content management while providing enhanced customer service.
- In late October, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services expects to overhaul the Change of Address webpages to clarify online steps and need to complete the online submission process in its entirety. This will reduce the number of individuals whose addresses are not updated at the case processing office or center and avoid mailing issues.
- In late October, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services expects to publish a notice in the Federal Register announcing the extension of Temporary Protected Status for Somalia.
- In late October, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) expects to enhance E-Verify's Monitoring and Compliance function to allow USCIS analysts to "lock" Social Security Numbers that appear to be used fraudulently within E-Verify to prevent fraud and enhance system integrity.
- In late October, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services expects to publish an interim policy memorandum entitled 17-Month Extension of Post-Completion Optional Practical Training (OPT) for F-

1 Students Enrolled in Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics (STEM) Degree Programs. This memo will clarify that F-1 students engaging in post-completion OPT are eligible for a 17-month STEM extension even if they have not yet completed the thesis requirement or equivalent for their STEM degree.

- In November, DHS expects to release a report titled Estimates of the Unauthorized Immigrant Population Residing in the United States: January 2012, providing estimates of the unauthorized immigrant population residing in the United States as of January 2012 for periods of entry and leading countries of birth and states of residence.
- In November, DHS expects to release the DHS Resilience Implementation Strategy to Congress. The Strategy was called for in a 2012 GAO Report to implement the draft DHS Resilience Policy.
- In November, U.S. Customs and Border Protection expects to extend the Air Cargo Advance Screening (ACAS) pilot. On April 23, CBP published a Notice in the Federal Register extending ACAS pilot for six months. ACAS enables members of the air cargo industry to send and receive advance security filing data for their air cargo.
- In November, the US Secret Service expects to publish the first of three reports regarding attacks against government targets at all levels as well as significant public spaces. The report will address information about the execution of the attacks, the targets, and preliminary information on the subject. This will be followed by reports on cases targeting hard infrastructure, monuments, landmarks, and attractions.
- In November, DIIS expects to launch the Beyond the Border: Phase 2 of the Truck Cargo Pre-Inspection Pilot in which officers will pre-inspect truck cargo in Ontario opposite the Peace Bridge and Buffalo, NY that is destined for the U.S. This pilot, which will run 12 months, is intended to test whether or not pre-inspection facilitates lawful trade across the shared border.

- In December, TSA expects to expand its Transportation Worker Identity Credential (TWIC) OneVisit solution to a second location in addition to Alaska via a semi-automated card mailing solution to require no more than one visit to a designated enrollment center. This expansion and enhancement is the second phase of a three-phase approach.
- In December, U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) and the Treasury Department plan to publish a Final Rule in the Federal Register that amends CBP's regulations regarding returning U.S. residents who are eligible to file a single customs declaration for members of a family residing in one household and traveling together upon arrival in the United States. The amendments expand the definition of the term "members of a family residing in one household" and would allow more U.S. residents traveling as a family to group together their duty exemptions for articles acquired abroad. These changes more accurately reflect relationships among members of the public who are traveling together and reduce the amount of paperwork that CBP officers need to review during inspection, thereby facilitating passenger processing. [Publication date TBA.]
- By the end of December, TSA expects to enable members of the military to access expedited screening at all Pre✓™ airports using their Common Access Card. To date, more than 220,000 members of the military have experienced TSA Pre✓™ which allows passengers to leave on their shoes, light outerwear and belt, keep their laptop in its case, and their 3-1-1 compliant liquids/gels bag in a carry-on.

VI. 30-60 Day Look-Ahead

- In February, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) will roll out a two-phase overhaul of e-Request. The look and feel of the tool will significantly improve so that it is easier to use and more customer friendly. After the rollout, USCIS will improve the functionality of the online tool by adding new types of nondelivery requests.
- In February, DHS expects to issue a signed policy statement declaring the agency's position against discrimination on any protected basis. The FY13 DHS Equal Employment Opportunity Policy Statement includes the prohibited basis of "gender identity" for the first time.
- By February, DHS expects to release an Annual Strategic Assessment regarding the coordination efforts of the Federal departments and agencies to advance continuity of operations in interoperable emergency communications.
- In February, the Office of the Ombudsman's Office expects to study implementation of "Revised Guidance for the Referral of Cases and Issuance of Notices to Appear (NTAs) in Cases involving Inadmissible and Removable Aliens," which focuses NTA issuance on cases with public safety threats, criminals and aliens engaged in fraud.
- In February, DHS expects to publish the Prison Rape Elimination Act Final Rule. This rule is prepared to fulfill requirements of the May 17, 2012 Presidential Memorandum directing all agencies with Federal confinement facilities to propose rules and procedures under the Prison Rape Elimination Act of 2003 and the Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act.
- In February, U.S. Customs and Border Protection will announce that the Kingdom of Jordan will participate in the Container Security Initiative. Non-intrusive inspection and radiation detection technology will be used to screen high-risk containers at the Port of Aqaba before they are shipped to the United States. Publication date is pending.
- By February, the Federal Emergency Management Agency expects to release the 2012 Tribal Policy Implementation Plan to comply with President Obama's Memorandum on Tribal Consultation that directs each federal department and agency to develop a detailed plan of action for complete and consistent implementation of Executive Order 13175.
- By February, DHS expects to consolidate the Federal Emergency Management Agency's Section 504 implementing regulations into one unified regulation for the Department, and to promulgate regulations implementing Section 504 for the Department's federally assisted programs.
- In late February, U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) is scheduled to begin testing Phase II of the U.S./Canadian truck cargo pre-inspection pilot program at the Peace Bridge in Buffalo, NY. A formal launch event is currently being planned for late February/early March. Under the pilot, CBP Officers will operate in Canada and pre-inspect cargo bound for the United States, thus expediting the flow of legitimate trade. Phase II will test the ability of the pre-inspection process to reduce wait times and border congestion. On February 7, Senator Schumer's office announced that the pilot will commence on February 24; however, CBP has not set a firm date as implementation is dependent upon completion of a Memorandum of Agreement with Canadian stakeholder agencies.
- In March, the Transportation Security Administration (TSA) expects to publish in the Federal Register a Notice of Proposed Rule Making (NPRM) on Security Training Programs for Surface Mode Employees as required by the Implementing Recommendations of the 9/11 Commission Act of 2007. This rule would apply to freight railroad carriers, public transportation agencies (including rail mass transit and bus systems), passenger railroad carriers, and over-the-road bus owner/operators. TSA also proposes to clarify and amend sensitive security information (SSI) protections to cover certain information associated with surface transportation.
- In March, the Transportation Security Administration expects to provide National Cargo Security Program (NCSP) recognition to Israel. The program involves a thorough examination of supply chain security components and related requirements that constitute a country's NCSP. These actions are taken to determine whether the subject NCSP provides a level of security commensurate with current U.S. air cargo security requirements.

- By the end of March, the Transportation Security Administration (TSA) expects to release a Request for Proposal and award a contract for the Credential Authentication Technology for approximately 12 units intended for developmental and operational testing against TSA's system requirements to assess suitability and effectiveness in checkpoint operations.

Department of Homeland Security Weekly Cabinet Report

December 18, 2013

I. Presidential Priorities

Immigration

- On December 18, Citizenship and Immigration Services Ombudsman Maria Odom will meet with the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) National Ombudsman and Assistant Administrator for Regulatory Enforcement Fairness in Washington, DC to discuss employment immigration issues impacting small businesses. The SBA National Ombudsman assists small businesses facing unfair enforcement actions, excessive fines, retaliation, or disproportionately burdensome regulations involving federal agencies and serves as an impartial liaison between the business and the agency in question, and the opportunity to obtain high-level agency review of the regulatory action or issue impacting small business. Closed Press.
- On December 19, the DHS Council on Combating Violence Against Women (CCVAW) and U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) will co-host a public webinar on ICE's efforts to combat violence against women during immigration enforcement and in immigration detention. Open Press.
- On December 19, Citizenship and Immigration Services Ombudsman Maria Odom will meet with representatives from the American Immigration Lawyers Association in Washington, DC and via teleconference in Texas to discuss challenges related to U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services' Texas Service Center, which processes applications and petitions for immigration benefits. Closed Press.
- On December 20, U.S. Customs and Border Patrol Office of Field Operations, Miami Field Office, will hold a local press event to highlight the Section 560 Agreement signing between Miami-Dade County and CBP. Section 560 of the Consolidated and Further Continuing Appropriations Act of 2013 allows the Commissioner of CBP to enter into certain public-private partnerships to provide new or enhanced services on a reimbursable basis in any of CBP's non-foreign operational environments and provides that CBP may enter into up to five such partnerships by December 31, 2013. Miami-Dade Aviation Department Director Emilio Gonzalez and Miami Director of Field Operations Vernon Foret will participate. Open press.
- E-Verify Update: As of December 14, 497,053 employers are registered for E-Verify, representing more than 1.4 million hiring sites. Thus far in FY 2014, over 5.5 million queries have been run through the system.

II. Department/Agency Priorities

Expected Stories

- Beginning in January, the program "Will To Live" debuts on weather.com. The story follows Coast Guard Sector Long Island Sound's search and rescue efforts during a man overboard case in their area of responsibility.

Upcoming Policy Initiatives or Announcements

- On December 18, U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) and the Treasury Department will publish a Final Rule in the Federal Register that amends CBP's regulations regarding returning U.S. residents who are eligible to file a single customs declaration for members of a family residing in one household and traveling together upon arrival in the United States. The amendments expand the definition of the term "members of a family residing in one household" and will allow more U.S. residents traveling as a family to group together their duty exemptions for articles acquired abroad. These changes more accurately reflect relationships among members of the public who are traveling together and reduce the amount of paperwork that CBP officers need to review during inspection, thereby facilitating passenger processing. The change will take effect on January 17, 2014, thirty days after publication.
- On December 20, TSA expects to announce that members of the military will have access expedited screening at all Pre✓™ airports using their Common Access Card. To date, more than 220,000 members of the military have experienced TSA Pre✓™ which allows passengers to leave on their shoes, light outerwear and belt, keep their laptop in its case, and their 3-1-1 compliant liquids/gels bag in a carry-on.

- On December 21, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) will add the document library functionality to Form I-526, Immigrant Petition by Alien Entrepreneur, in the USCIS Electronic Immigration System (USCIS ELIS). This functionality allows foreign investors to access a document library to select evidence that supports their specific investment in a new commercial enterprise within an approved regional center. This functionality provides a streamlined option for filing and will support the Form I-526 application process.
- In December, DHS expects to release the second annual report which details the progress in achieving the goals of the Beyond the Border Action Plan.
- In December, DHS plans to release the National Infrastructure Protection Plan (NIPP) 2013 as part of the implementation of Presidential Policy Directive-21. NIPP 2013 builds upon previous NIPPs by emphasizing the complementary goals of security and resilience for critical infrastructure. The updated NIPP reflects the vision in which the Nation's physical and cyber critical infrastructure remain secure and resilient, with vulnerabilities reduced, consequences minimized, threats identified and disrupted, and response and recovery hastened.
- In December, DHS expects to public the PREA Final Rule. This rule is prepared to fulfill requirements of the May 17, 2012 Presidential Memorandum directing all agencies with Federal confinement facilities to propose rules and procedures under the Prison Rape Elimination Act of 2003 and the Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act (VAWA).
- In December, the Science & Technology Directorate expects to complete the Wildland Firefighter Advanced Personal Protection System initiative, which aims to develop a National Fire Protection Association certified garment system that improves radiant thermal protection; reduces heat stress; and improves the form, fit, and function of garments
- In December, the Office of the Citizenship and Immigration Services Ombudsman expects to issue a formal recommendation regarding U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS)' Administrative Appeals Office that will identify opportunities to improve appeal processing times and establish clearer policy guidance for the appeals process.
- In December, the Science & Technology Directorate expects to complete FINDER demonstrations, which use low-power microwave radar to detect the small movements from breathing and the heartbeat of a buried victim, even when the signal must pass through several meters of building debris and rubble.
- In December, TSA expects to expand its Transportation Worker Identity Credential (TWIC) OneVisit solution to a second location in addition to Alaska via a semi-automated card mailing solution to require no more than one visit to a designated enrollment center.
- By the end of December, TSA expects to open additional TSA's Pre✓™ Application enrollment centers in the New York City area, the Washington, D.C. metro area and the Los Angeles area. TSA ultimately plans to expand to more than 300 application centers across the country in the coming years.
- By the end of December, TSA expects to remove the Terrorist Watch list from domestic aircraft operators and foreign air carriers.

VI. 30-60 Day Look-Ahead

- In January, U.S. Customs and Border Protection is tentatively scheduled to issue a press release regarding the status of the U.S./Canadian truck cargo pre-inspection pilot program. Under the pilot, CBP Officers operate in Canada and pre-inspect cargo bound for the United States, thus expediting the flow of legitimate trade from Canada into the United States. The press release will reference the end of Phase I of the pilot program at the Pacific Highway in Blaine, Washington and the beginning of Phase II of the pilot program at the Peace Bridge in Buffalo, New York (dates to be determined).
- In January, U.S. Customs and Border Protection is planning to issue a press release on its fiscal year 2013 operational statistics. Date to be determined.
- In January, the Department of Homeland Security expects to release a report titled Estimates of the Unauthorized Immigrant Population Residing in the United States: January 2012, providing estimates of the unauthorized immigrant population residing in the United States as of January 2012 for periods of entry and leading countries of birth and states of residence.
- In January, DHS expects to release the DHS Resilience Implementation Strategy to Congress. The Strategy was called for in a 2012 GAO Report to implement the draft DHS Resilience Policy.
- In January, following the overhaul of the Change of Address (COA) tool, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) will roll out a two-phase overhaul of e-Request. The look and feel of the tool will significantly improve so that it is easier to use and more customer friendly. In February 2014, USCIS will improve the functionality of the online tool by adding new types of nondelivery requests.
- In late January, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) plans to release the revised Form N-400, Application for Naturalization. The redesigned form includes new data collection technologies and additional questions.
- In February, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) plans to publish a Notice in the Federal Register extending Temporary Protected Status for Haiti for 18 months, through January 22, 2016.
- In February, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) plans to implement new guidance that will consolidate and clarify policy on customer service (Volume 1 of the USCIS Policy Manual). This guidance will set formal expectations for customer service.
- In February, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) plans to implement new guidance that will consolidate and clarify policy on adjustment of status (Volume 7 of the USCIS Policy Manual). Adjustment of status describes the process of a foreign national obtaining lawful permanent resident status while physically present in the United States.
- In February, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) plans to implement new guidance that will consolidate and clarify policy on grounds of inadmissibility and civil surgeon designations (Volume 8 of the USCIS Policy Manual). Civil surgeon designation allows eligible physicians, as civil surgeons, to perform medical examinations for immigration benefits applicants in the United States. USCIS determines an individual's inadmissibility based on the results of the civil surgeon's assessment. This update incorporates the recently released policy into the USCIS policy manual.
- In February, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) plans to implement new guidance that will consolidate and clarify policy on employment, travel, and identity documents (Volume 11 of the USCIS Policy Manual).
- In February, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) plans to publish guidance that summarizes the legislative changes to requests for U nonimmigrant status and related applications for adjustment of status. The Trafficking Victims Protection Reauthorization Act of 2013 (TVPRA 2013) adds two new crimes to the original statutory list for U nonimmigrant eligibility: stalking and fraud in foreign labor contracting. Additionally, the guidance explains the TVPRA 2013 amendment to the Immigration and Nationality Act that adds specific age-out protection to derivative petitions where the qualifying family member turned 21 years old while his or her petition was pending.

- In February, U.S. Customs and Border Protection expects to publish in the Federal Register redesign plans for the CBP Form 5106. The proposed form changes will allow CBP to screen for shell companies and conduct better risk assessment for targeting of shipments.
- In February, DHS expects to launch the Voluntary Program as directed by EO 13636 in which critical infrastructure owners and operators will have a centralized advocate and resource to access guidance on Cyber Framework adoption, identify DHS and government-wide assistance around other cybersecurity risk management activities, and share best practices with sector and cross-sector partners.
- In February, the Citizenship and Immigration Services Ombudsman's Office will recommend improvements to change of status and employment authorization for spouses of foreign medical doctors accepted into the Conrad State 30 waiver program. Under this program, each state may receive up to 30 physicians each year to provide medical services to rural, inner city, and other medically underserved communities.

V. 30-60 Day Look-Ahead

- In June, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) anticipates issuing a new policy expanding the definition of “mother” and “parent” under the Immigration and Nationality Act to include gestational mothers using assisted reproductive technology. After a joint review of the law, USCIS and the Department of State concluded that the term “mother” and “parent” under the INA includes any mother who: 1) carried and gave birth to the child; and, 2) was the child’s legal mother at the time of birth under the law of the relevant jurisdiction.
- In June, DHS expects to release the DHS Resilience Implementation Strategy to Congress. The Strategy was called for in a 2012 GAO Report to implement the draft DHS Resilience Policy.
- By June 30, DHS expects to release to the White House a DHS Policy on Climate Change Adaptation as part of the deliverables under the Executive Order on Climate Preparedness.
- On July 7, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) anticipates hosting its fourth Chinese language engagement, Jiao Liu, with a focus on DACA and naturalization.
- In July, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) anticipates updating the E-Verify Spanish website to mirror the recent update to the English website. Updates will include new graphics and new and revised content.
- In July, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) anticipates holding special naturalization ceremonies across the country in commemoration of Independence Day, welcoming nearly 7,800 new citizens in 95 ceremonies between June 30 and July 5. A signature (anchor) naturalization ceremony is TBD.
- In July, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) anticipates publishing Federal Register Notice on Temporary Protected Status for Sudan and South Sudan.
- In July, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) anticipates hosting its first Korean language engagement.
- In the summer, DHS expects to announce with Canada an agreement to cover preclearance operations in the land, marine, and rail modes, as well as updates to the existing U.S.-Canada Air Preclearance Agreement, per the Beyond the Border Action Plan.
- In the summer, USCIS will issue an interim rule, amending its regulations governing the requirements and procedures for alien victims of human trafficking seeking T nonimmigrant status. The Secretary of Homeland Security (Secretary) may grant T nonimmigrant status (commonly known as a “T visa”) to aliens who are or were victims of severe forms of trafficking in persons, who have complied (unless under 18 years of age or unable to cooperate due to trauma) with reasonable requests by a Federal, State, or local law enforcement agency (LEA) for assistance in an investigation or prosecution of acts of trafficking in persons or the investigation of other crimes involving trafficking, and who would suffer extreme hardship involving unusual and severe harm if removed from the United States. In this interim rule, DHS is amending its regulations to conform with legislation enacted after the initial rule was published in 2002: the Trafficking Victims Protection Reauthorization Act of 2003, the Violence Against Women and Department of Justice Reauthorization Act of 2005, the William Wilberforce Trafficking Victims Protection Reauthorization Act of 2008, and the Trafficking Victims Protection Reauthorization Act of 2013. DHS is also streamlining procedures, responding to public comments, and providing guidance for the statutory requirements for T nonimmigrants. The intent is to make sure the T nonimmigrant status regulations are up to date and reflect USCIS adjudicative experience, as well as the input provided by stakeholders.

30-60 Day Look-Ahead

- Within the next 30-60 days, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services plans to implement new guidance that will consolidate and clarify policy with respect to the L-1B nonimmigrant classification.
- Within the next 30-60 days, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services plans to implement guidance on the evaluation of claims of "extraordinary circumstances" for late filings pursuant to the Child Status Protection Act (CSPA). A 2012 Board of Immigration Appeals precedent decision provided limited guidance regarding what may constitute extraordinary circumstances. This policy will provide additional interpretive guidance for determining whether extraordinary circumstances allow USCIS to excuse the one year filing requirement on a case-by-case basis.
- Within the next 30-60 days, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services plans to implement guidance regarding direct sibling-to-sibling DNA tests for purposes of establishing a sibling relationship. Direct sibling-to-sibling DNA testing is given no evidentiary weight. DNA test results comparing each purported sibling to the claimed common parent, however, will be evaluated according to current policy relating to DNA test results for parent-child relationships.

FEMA will issue a press release and a fact sheet.

Upcoming Policy Initiatives

- U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) plans to close the Jamieson Line, New York, land port of entry in August 2014. Traffic will be routed to the Trout River land port of entry, located less than seven miles to the west. CBP decided to close the port because of a lack of funds required to bring the facility up to adequate operational standards, the cost of annual rent, limited traffic volume at the port, and the cost of adequate manpower required to staff the facility. A notice of the proposed closure was posted to the Federal Register in September 2012; the final rule to close the facility has been approved and signed by Secretary Johnson and will be published on July 22. The Office of Congressional Affairs is preparing a plan to notify Congress, and the Office of Administration is currently working with the Office of Field Operations and the General Services Administration (GSA) on a closure strategy.
